

Indiana Chapter of the Air & Waste Management Association Corporate Partnership Campaign

The Indiana Chapter of the A&WMA is seeking Corporate Partners.

The Indiana Chapter provides an objective forum for environmental professionals to discuss and learn about the significant issues affecting air and waste management in Indiana and throughout the country. With many active members that work in industry, consulting, law firms, academia, and government, the Indiana Chapter represents a diverse group of professionals that are involved in environmental science, policy, and law in the State.

The Chapter provides numerous important benefits to its members and the broader Indiana community - from networking events and technical presentations, to our electronic newsletter, and to support environmental science and engineering programs at our Indiana colleges and universities.

Corporate Partnerships provide benefits for the Indiana Chapter as well as our Corporate Partners. Your contributions allow our chapter to continue to present local professional training opportunities and support our educational goals. In recognition of your support, we are offering the many benefits based on partnership level.
